World's First Anti-smoking Treaty comes into effect

The world's first anti-smoking treaty has taken shape in Geneva and comes into effect from 27th of February, 2005. Around 170 countries including India have signed the framework convention on tobacco control (FCTC). In India we need firm measures like hiking the price of cigarettes, more budgets for anti-smoking campaigns, ban on tobacco advertisements etc. Union Health Secretary Mr P K Hota said in a reaction: "we will strictly follow the convention guidelines". But critics have already calling it as a futile exercise as business lobby is always more powerful than public health concerns. This seems correct also as not even a single country out of 170 favoured a blanket ban on tobacco advertisement.

Painless Tooth Repair.

Researchers in Japan have developed a new synthetic tooth enamel that can repair early tooth decay without the need for drillings and fillings. The crystalline white paste can reconstruct enamel without removing the decayed area. The scientists tested the new paste on early decay in a lower premolar tooth. After examining the tooth with an electron microscope they found the paste integrated with the tooth's natural enamel.
